The Problem //

The systems integrator was working with a carrier product house that was faced with the challenge of efficiently managing business cellular data usage on a large scale to curb excessive data consumption. Their objective was to minimize costs and maximize revenue margins while meeting the demands of the current market.

Our Solution //

By collaborating with Intelitrex, they were able to tailor the solution specifically for their needs. This empowered them to gain comprehensive visibility into connectivity, set data usage thresholds, and seamlessly integrate the solution with their existing systems, the original equipment manufacturer (OEM) device, and a prominent broadband aggregator.

- Intelitrex offers unparalleled visibility into cellular performance, enabling MSPs to identify and report on runaway data consumption and LTE operations.

- Intelitrex network performance management feature ensures proactive handling of performance issues, granting MSPs peace of mind.

> "The capabilities of Intelitrex have provided us with a competitive edge in the mobility industry. The monitoring capabilities of the tool have proven to be invaluable to our business. The tool provides critical alerting and reports that allows us to identify and resolve costly issues like runaway data before it gets out of control. I would highly recommend Intelitrex to anyone looking to gain more control over their mobility devices."
